The Minneapolis Division has received information from an established confidential source who states that Means claims that his new country is beginning in Porcupine, South Dakota. The source reports that Means has little support from individual tribal members and no support from the tribal government. The philosophy of seceding from the United States of America renouncing their U. S. citizenship and forming a new country is primarily being advocated by Means, [redacted] and another individual, name unknown, of the Rosebud Indian Reservation.

According to recent newspaper articles carried in the Rapid City Journal, when discussing his new country, activist Russell Means states that he intends to establish a central bank with currency based on gold and silver. Means also claims to be transferring deeded land which he owns in Shannon County to the Republic of Lakotah in order to avoid paying property taxes. The Janet Sayler, Treasurer, Pennington County, 315 St. Joseph Street, Rapid City, South Dakota, was telephonically contacted, office telephone number 394-2163, cellular telephone number 484-1694, in reference to individuals who have reportedly unsuccessfully attempting to file liens upon property belonging to non-tribal members in the Rapid City area. Sayler then provided the following information:

It was around the first part of January 2008 when Sayler was summoned by another female employee in her office who was having difficulty with an individual determined to be [redacted] [redacted] was alone and did not provide any identifying documents. [redacted] was insisting on receiving information on all of the property located in Pennington County. It appeared to Sayler that [redacted] was attempting to initiate a disturbance. Sayler advised [redacted] that he would have to pay for the information but that it was available to him. [redacted] became loudly vocal proclaiming that he had rights to the information. [redacted] X

[redacted] also was insisting on receiving information on any property belonging to Pennington County or in the name of Pennington County. This would include the property taken due to non-payment of taxes.

Sayler then contacted [redacted] of the County's ITS (Internal Technical Services) Department. [redacted] telephone number [redacted] is the individual that [redacted] would need to deal with in obtaining a computer printout of the property listings. [redacted] then went down to the ITS Department and was there for a much longer time than he had been at the Treasurer's Office. Sayler does not know what, if any documents, he was provided by the ITS Department.

After her contact with [redacted] Sayler created a memo pertaining to that event which she sent to her staff members as she did not want anyone other than a supervisor to deal with Collette in the future. Sayler will fax a copy of that memorandum to the writer.

Sayler learned later that [redacted] had attempted to file on some property deeds with [redacted] Register of Deeds,

A few days later, on January 9, 2008, Sayler was at a Republican Ambassador's meeting at the Holiday Inn, Rushmore Plaza, in Rapid City, and observed that [redacted] was present with Russell Means. At that time, Sayler identified [redacted] to Sheriff Don Holloway, who was also at that meeting, but does not know if there was contact between Sheriff Holloway and [redacted]

Sayler is preparing to attend a meeting of all Department Heads in the Pennington County Courthouse and will advise [redacted] and [redacted] that they will be contacted by the writer to be interviewed about this matter. Sayler will provide the writer's name and telephone number to the Pennington County Department Heads with the request that they contact the writer with any additional information that they might have or might get in the future in regards to individuals with the Republic of Lakotah attempting to file liens on property belonging to non-members of that newly formed group.

On January 2, 2008 [redacted] came to the computer office and said he was referred to this office by Janet Saylor, Pennington County Treasurer. He wanted a report or a file of exempt property in Pennington County. I asked him what type and showed him a list of the types of exempt property that we had. The list below is what he wanted.

AS=Assessed by state
CC=City & County
CO=County
CT=City
FD=Federal
FH=Farm Home
HW=Highway
PH=Penn Co Housing & Redevelopment
SC=School
ST=State
TW=Township

The information he wanted on this property was parcel #, owner, mailing address, site address, acres, legal description, abstract, taxing district and the exempt code. He wanted to go to his car and get his thumb drive so I could copy it off right then. I said no it would be a couple of days, then he wanted to pay for it by a credit card, I said no it had to be cash. He then gave me his card to call him.

A couple days later I stayed and created the file. The cost being $118.92. I felt strange about this request so I decided that I should ask the [redacted] if he wanted me to give this information out. [redacted] said to me that was the person that was in the Register of Deeds creating problems on filing a deed.

I then talked with [redacted] the Register of Deeds and Janet. We called a detective at the sheriff's office. We talked with [redacted] he gave us his cell phone in case [redacted] came back.

I then talked with [redacted] of the State Attorney's office about not giving this information to [redacted]. Basically he said that we had to treat all public the same and we had to give him the information. I decided to not pursue calling [redacted] and saying I had it [redacted] just to wait until I heard from him. To date I haven't heard anything from him.

[redacted] Register of Deeds, Pennington County, telephone number [redacted] was telephonically contacted by the writer in regards to this matter. [redacted] then provided the following information:

[redacted] has appeared at her office on two occasions. The first occasion occurred on January 2, 2008. On that occasion, [redacted] who was alone, wanted to register three mortgages with her office. She advised [redacted] that she would need to contact the Legal Department before accepting his documents. After receiving his documents [redacted] contacted the States Attorney's Office and received information from that office as well as an opinion from the South Dakota Attorney General's Office that she was to reject the documents.

[redacted] then telephonically contacted [redacted] to advise him that the documents were being rejected. [redacted] then implied a threat and attempted to intimidate [redacted] by informing her that "they would be setting up a deed office and deeds would be issued for any government officials property that stood in their way".

The second occasion that [redacted] came to her office he was accompanied by Russell Means. [redacted] was not present on that occasion and will have to research that in order to determine the exact date of that visit. On that second occasion, [redacted] and Russell Means were dealt with by [redacted]. On that occasion, her assistant, [redacted] sent [redacted] and Means to the States Attorney's Office where they were to meet with [redacted] last name unknown, the [redacted] of the Civil Department. [redacted] believes that both the Pennington County States Attorney's Office and the South Dakota Attorney General's Office have been advised of and involved with this matter. [redacted] did instruct her [redacted] to write down a narrative of that incident.

[redacted] advised that she would assemble the paperwork and other documentation pertaining to these two incidents and provide that information to the writer. Attached is a 22 page fax from [redacted]

About 3:50pm I received a call from [redacted] asking the reason why I was rejecting the documents and attempting to go ^{by} memory. I finally put him on hold. I then read my statement directly from the letter. [redacted] then informed me that they would be setting up a deed office

NAME: (S) Russell Means

CLASSIFICATION: [REDACTED]

On 1-4-08 at approx. 1100 hours, I responded to the Pennington County Register of Deeds Office to speak to supervisor [REDACTED] reference Russell Means filing a false lien. Pennington County Sheriff, Don Holloway accompanied me to the Register of Deeds Office.

b7EINTERVIEW:

The interview with [REDACTED] was started by her giving Sheriff Holloway and myself copies of four different mortgages. All of the mortgages contained signatures from Russell Means, Notary Public [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. It appeared the legal description on two of the mortgages were for the entire half of western South Dakota. One mortgage's legal description was for lots 26 through 30, block 19 of the North Rapid Addition to the City of Rapid City, South Dakota. The final mortgage's legal description was for lot 8 in block 2 of Mesa View Estates Subdivision No. 1, Pennington County, South Dakota. For further information on the mortgages refer to the attached copies.

[REDACTED] advised on 1-2-08 at approx. 2:00 pm, a male that identified himself as [REDACTED] came to the Register of Deeds Office to file the liens. [REDACTED] said Register of Deeds employee [REDACTED] was the first person to deal with [REDACTED]. Once [REDACTED] received the lien from [REDACTED] she spoke with [REDACTED] to advise her of the situation. [REDACTED] told us she then spoke with [REDACTED]. I asked [REDACTED] if [REDACTED] identified himself with an identification card. [REDACTED] said he produced a business card which indicated [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] made a copy of the business card which she gave to me. [REDACTED] told us [REDACTED] was videotaping his conversation with her. [REDACTED] told [REDACTED] to turn the video camera off, which he eventually put in his pocket. [REDACTED] told [REDACTED] he wanted to tape this transaction because it was a historical event. During [REDACTED] conversation with [REDACTED] she advised the legal description on the mortgage for the entire western half of South Dakota was not correct. [REDACTED] then paid [REDACTED] $44.00 to file the mortgages, and he was issued a receipt. [REDACTED] then left the area without incident.

I asked [REDACTED] to describe [REDACTED] to us. [REDACTED] said [REDACTED] was a male with dark skin. She did not know if the [REDACTED] was Native American. [REDACTED] said he was approx. 5'8", 150 pounds, wearing glasses, and approx. 50 years old. [REDACTED] also said [REDACTED] appeared to be [REDACTED].

[REDACTED] advised approx. one hour later [REDACTED] returned to exchange the mortgage that did not have the proper legal description. This also happened without incident.

On 1-3-08, [REDACTED] was sent a check for $44.00 from the Pennington County Treasures' Office to reimburse him for the cost of filing the mortgages. [REDACTED] was also sent a letter which indicated the documents could not be recorded because it is not an entity legally recognized and/or a valid lien or mortgage. For further information refer to the attached copies of the letter and check.

I also received two written statements from [REDACTED] in reference to her contact with [REDACTED]. One of the statements referred to [REDACTED] telling [REDACTED] to turn the recording device off. The other written statement indicated that [REDACTED] had called [REDACTED] to tell him the documents were rejected. [REDACTED] also told [REDACTED] that deeds would be issued for any government official's property that stood in their way. For further

On 1-9-08 at approx. 11:30 pm, I was contacted by Capt. [redacted] via phone. Capt. [redacted] advised Sheriff Holloway as currently at a luncheon with Russell Means. I was advised Sheriff Holloway was going to approach Russell to see if he would come to the Public Safety Building for an interview. I was later advised Russell would be at the Public Safety Building between 2:00 pm and 3:00 pm to meet with me.

RUSSELL MEANS INTERVIEW:

On 1-9-08 at approx. 4:34 pm, I met with Russell in the lobby of the Pennington County Sheriff's Office. I introduced myself to Russell and I asked him if he would talk with me in my office. Russell said he did not have a problem talking to me. The interview with Russell was recorded on a digital recorder. The digital recording will be maintained at the Pennington County Sheriff's Office.

I started the interview by obtaining some general information from Russell. I told Russell I wanted to talk to him about mortgages that were filed. Russell said a letter was sent to the state department on Dec. 17th 2007. Russell indicated the letter was in reference to negotiating. Russell advised the letter indicated that a refusal to negotiate would lead to the filing of liens. Russell said the reason to file the liens was to get the attention of government officials. Russell advised the liens were for government property. When I was questioning Russell about the legal descriptions on the liens, he advised the interim attorney general put the legal descriptions together for the liens. Russell told me the attorney general was [redacted]. Russell advised he did not go along to file the liens. During a phone call, Russell found out the liens had been rejected. Russell said they were thinking about suing because the liens were illegally rejected.

I asked Russell what his position was within the Republic of Lakota. Russell told me he was the Chief Facilitator for the Republic of Lakota. I asked Russell what this position entailed. He said his duty was to coordinate, and make sure all the members are aware of what his happening. Russell also told me he needed permission from other members to do anything. I asked Russell what his position was within the bank. Russell said the bank was currently just a website and not active. I asked Russell what [redacted] duties were. Russell said [redacted]

I then handed the mortgages to Russell for him to see. I asked Russell if these were the mortgages that he signed. Russell answered by saying yes. I then asked Russell to define the map which was attached to two of the mortgages. Russell said the shaded area was on the map was in reference to all federal property. I asked Russell who the notary public was that signed the documents. Russell said the notary republic was [redacted] who worked at Security First Bank in Rapid City. I asked Russell if [redacted]

[redacted] wrote the mortgages. Russell said [redacted] did write the mortgages. I asked Russell who had [redacted] write the mortgages. Russell said himself along with other members of the government. Russell advised himself [redacted] and [redacted] were members of the Republic of Lakota. Russell said he called [redacted] and [redacted] and they concurred with mortgages. I then asked Russell why he did not go with [redacted] to file the mortgages. Russell told me there were two reasons he did not go along. One reason was because he was busy and the other was because he did not like to go through the metal detector.

I asked Russell if he knew how I could get a hold of [redacted] Russell then told me that [redacted] was currently sitting on the second floor. Russell then asked me what the complaint was. I told him that if someone files a lien on this much land, someone was probably going to look into it. Russell then told me that Article 6 of the US Constitution had been breached. Russell also advised the entire reason for this was to talk to responsible people about current issues. I asked Russell if they had filed liens at any other counties. Russell said they had already filed liens in Meade County, and they were going to file a lien on Russell's deeded property which is located in Shannon County.

The interview was ended at approx. 5:05 pm. For further details refer to the digital recording of the interview which will be maintained at the Pennington County Sheriff's Office. End of Interview.

I then walked with Russell to the second floor of the Public Safety Building. I then spoke with [redacted] [redacted] I asked [redacted] if he would be willing to talk to me. [redacted] said he was willing to speak with, and walked up to my office. This interview was also recorded with a digital recorder.

INTERVIEW:

As soon as the interview started [redacted] asked me if I was investigating the [redacted] I told [redacted] that was one of the things I wanted to talk to him about. I then obtained some general information from [redacted] I asked [redacted] what his title was. [redacted] told me he was the [redacted] for the Republic of Lakota, which entailed managing attorneys. [redacted] then told me that if I violated his rights, I would be liable. I told [redacted] I was just talking to him, and I asked if I was violating his rights at this time. [redacted] told me they were brought here under false pretenses. [redacted] advised Sheriff Holloway gave Russell the impression the Register of Deeds violated the law, by not filing the liens. [redacted] advised the reason they came to the Sheriff's Office was to discuss this issue.

[redacted] then asked me to pull out the statute that defines [redacted] told me that if they didn't violate all three sections of this statute they could not be prosecuted. I then showed [redacted] copies of the liens and I asked him if he signed them. He said he could not be certain if these were the documents he signed. [redacted] advised the documents did look similar to what he had recently signed. I asked [redacted] about the legal descriptions that were on the liens [redacted] told me to figure out where the property was you could look on the county website. I asked [redacted] if the copies of the liens were what he took to the Register of Deeds to file on January 2nd. [redacted] answered by saying he believed the copies of the mortgages were what he took to the Register of Deeds Office.

I asked [redacted] if anyone went with him to the Register of Deeds Office when he attempted to file the liens. [redacted] said he was alone when he went to the Register of Deeds Office. I asked [redacted] if he did any video taping when he was attempting to file the liens. [redacted] said he did videotape because it was a regarding complaints they had related to tribal government and tribal police practices on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation. During the meeting, Means relayed that his new government, the Republic of Lakota, planned to empanel a "grand jury" to here the many complaints across Indian country, specifically in SD. He related that they were going to start on the Pine Ridge Reservation and spread out from there. Means related that he was the head of the Republic of Lakota and that he was going to coordinate the empaneling of the "grand Jury". Means said that they were going to take the "evidence" they obtained from this grand jury and provide it to federal authorities. He along with the others at the meeting complained that the federal government has not lived up to their responsibilities and that graft and corruption are rampant on the reservation.

After this exchange, the participants of the meeting returned to the original topic and Means left the meeting a few minutes later. SSRA [redacted] was unable to locate Means after the meeting. A news paper article was published in the Rapid City Journal on 07/29/2008 which covered a "press conference" held by Means on Monday 07/28/2008, in the article Means went into further detail about this "grand jury" process. Group investigating tribal corruption

By Andrea J. Cook
Journal staff

7-28-08

The Republic of Lakotah is forming an all-Lakota grand jury to investigate government corruption on South Dakota reservations, according to organizer Russell Means.

Means said a news conference at 11 a.m. today in Memorial Park near the Rushmore Plaza Holiday Inn Hotel and Convention Center will outline the direction the grand jury's investigation will take.

"The situation is once again like it was in 1972 where some of the police are the terrorists," Means said.

Everything on the reservation is handled politically from law enforcement to tribal courts to the tribal council and administration, Means said.

The grand jury's investigation will start with the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation and eventually address situations on seven Sioux reservations in the Republic of Lakotah, Means said.

Housing, health and education issues on the reservations are at the forefront of the republic's concerns, Means said.

A group of activists including Means announced in December the formation of the Republic of Lakotah, which they say is an independent nation, seceding from the United States and rejecting treaties with the U.S. government.

Lakotah * launches abuse inquiries

GRAND JURIES:

Panels to investigate complaints in border towns and on state reservations.

By Andrea J. Cook
Journal staff

Grand juries convened by the Republic of Lakotah on seven reservations in South Dakota will spend several months gathering evidence of alleged abuses against the Lakota people, according to organizer Russell Means.

The grand juries will investigate allegations of graft and corruption on the reservation, police brutality and of discrimination against the Lakota people in housing, health and education, Means said during a Monday morning news conference in Rapid City's Memorial Park.

Means said the grand juries will be small and will go from community to community, beginning on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation, to hear testimony.

"This investigation is going to take a year or more to gather all the evidence to substantiate

LAKOTAH: Means says the grand jury will not issue indictments.

our charges of genocide against the United States of America," Means said.

Means said the grand jury will not issue indictments.

"We are a peaceful, non-confrontational republic," he said. "We don't attempt to use police power to brutalize anyone, either physically or mentally."

Means and others announced formation of the independent republic in December. The group has said its boundaries would encompass land in the Dakotas, Montana and Nebraska as outlined in the 1851 Fort Laramie treaty. The group does not have the backing of the Lakota tribes in South Dakota.

The grand juries will gather evidence that will be turned over to state and federal authorities, including Congress, Means said.

"More importantly, we're going to the international community," he said. "Even more important than that, we're going to the Web because that has been the Republic of Lakotah's strength."

Means said one hearing had been held in Chadron, Neb., and another is pending.

"We're going to be investigating the so-called border towns around the Sioux Indian reservations for racism and hatred," he said.

Statistics uncovered in Nebraska confirm there are income and education disparities for all racial groups. Incarcerations and police stops in Nebraska for Native Americans point to those disparities, he said.

With Means at the press conference were Earl Tall and Betty Janis of Manderson. The brother and sister's experiences with tribal law enforcement speak to the need for the investigation, Means said.

Tall said that he and other members of his family have been arrested and jailed on different occasions, but no charges have ever been filed against him. Complaints filed against tribal officers have been ignored, Tall said, which is why he turned to Means for help.

After an accidental shooting at Manderson, Janis, who has rheumatoid arthritis, said tribal officers came to her home demanding to search the house for Tall's grandson.

According to Janis, she was arrested and charged with assaulting an officer after she stepped between an officer and her grandson.

Tall's grandson was eventually located and spent eight days in jail before being released without any charges being filed.

People on the reservation are afraid to speak out against the abuses they have suffered, Janis said.

"They fear retaliation from police officers and their families," she said. "They're all tied together."

There are no checks and balances of tribal government of any kind or any of the programs the federal government sponsors on the reservations, Means said.

"There's lawlessness among the law," he said.

Some tribal police are running rampant, according to Means.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs refuses to live up to its federal responsibilities on reservations, Means said. "Congress is our only recourse."

Russell Means to lead 'civil disobedience fishing event'

Native American activist Russell Means is organizing a group of Lakotah Indians who will fish without licenses on Monday, Aug. 25.

Means, who terms himself "chief facilitator of the Republic of Lakotah," plans to lead a group to the Sheridan Lake Recreation Area near Rapid City, refuse to pay the admission fee, and fish without paying the license fee. It is slated to happen at 1 p.m.

The Republic of Lakotah is the name of the area that Means claims is now an independent nation. The area's borders are carved from several Midwest states, including South Dakota.

Means claims that Lakota retained the right to fish and pass in the 1851 Fort Laramie Treaty territory and that those rights continue today and are backed by Article VI of the U.S. Constitution.

He said the fishing protest is in "the tradition of Gandhi and Martin Luther King."

The event, which is being billed as the Lakotah Freedom Fishing Day, is about much more than the admission fee or the fishing license fee; it is about getting the South Dakota and United States governments to follow their own laws, Means said.

"After having been an occupied nation for over 150 years, we have asked the United States government to leave our country," he stated in a press release. "Meanwhile, until the United States government leaves Lakota territory we will take every opportunity to insist it follow its own laws and that its states do the same."

Means said he has given notice to South Dakota Attorney General Larry Long of its plans for this event. You can read it at <http://republicoflakotah.com/>.

Means said he plans to call in federal marshals to enforce the treaty rights. Means said, "According to the Civil Rights Act, federal marshals should arrest any state official who tries to stop Lakota from entering the park and fishing," he stated. "However, if the United States ignores its own laws to deny Lakotah rights; it will certainly not be the first time."

IN BRIEF

Means to face charges after fishing protest

Criminal charges apparently are moving ahead against Native American activist Russell Means nearly two weeks after he staged a fishing protest at Sheridan Lake.

South Dakota Game, Fish & Parks Department regional supervisor Mike Kintigh said Tuesday that investigating officer Jim McCormick met Monday with prosecutors with the Pennington County State's Attorney's office. Kintigh said McCormick was at Sheridan Lake the day of the protest.

Means had invited several people to fish with him without a license. He has said that the Fort Laramie Treaty allows him and all tribal members to fish without a license.

Kintigh directed questions about the case to deputy state's attorney Lara Roetzel, who was unavailable for comment late Tuesday.

Means is planning to form a committee to investigate injustices against the Lakota people citing the 1851 Fort Laramie Treaty as his authority, the committee would have jurisdiction over Lakota people in parts of South Dakota, North Dakota, Wyoming, Montana and Nebraska. The committee will travel to different reservations and hold hearings in different communities. The committee will ask people in the community to provide evidence of civil rights violations, discrimination, police brutality or abuses committed by the tribal police.

Means will compile the evidence collected by the committee and forward it to federal law enforcement or the U. S. Congress.

Other issues Means is working on to develop a Sovereign Lakotah Nation:

- An economic structure similar to the banking system in the United States.
- Production, control and distribution of energy. Energy is equal to power and Means wants to be able to control the economy of the Lakotah Nation through production of energy.
- Russell Means whose Lakota name is Oyate Wacinyapin, Gary Rowland and Phyllis Young are part of the "Lakota Freedom Delegation" which is meeting with the U. S. Department of State.
- In January 2008, Means held a meeting at Standing Rock Lakota Reservation during which he declared mandates for the recognition of Lakota Sovereignty and Independence. Representatives from the Sisseton Wahpeton Nation attended the meeting and expressed support for the Lakotah Nation and expressed an interest in joining.

Tentative structure of the provisional government:

- Will be run by small communities comprised of 30 to 40 lodges.
- A consensus of members present will be required to carry a motion.
- A Congress will be made up of a representative from each lodge or neighborhood.

The legal document or "Constitution" for the Lakotah Nation is the 1851 Treaty of Fort Laramie, signed September 17, 1951, and ratified by the U. S. Congress in 1853. The Treaty was made between the U. S. Congress and the following Indian Nations: Lakota, Crow, Hidatsa, Mandan, Arikara, Cheyenne and Arapaho.

Means wants to pressure the U. S. Congress to honor the Treaty and return the Black Hills and Pipestone Quarries to the Indian Nations who use those lands for spiritual purposes.

Dozens gather to support Peltier in Fargo

The Associated Press

FARGO, N.D. — Dozens of Leonard Peltier's supporters gathered Friday in front of the federal courthouse in Fargo, where he was convicted more than 30 years ago in the execution-style killings of two federal agents.

Carrying signs that read, "Don't let Leonard die in prison," and "Peltier is innocent, FBI is guilty," the group heard from Peltier's sister, Betty Ann Peltier-Solano, who read a letter from her brother.

"My time of freedom is near," Peltier-Solano read from her brother's letter.

Native American activist and actor Russell Means spoke at the rally, saying Peltier was wrongly convicted.

Means urged the public to pressure federal officials to free Peltier when he becomes eligible for release early next year.

Means said he spoke to Peltier recently by telephone.

"You can tell how lonesome he is," Means said. "He didn't want to get off the phone; it teared me up."

Peltier, 64, is serving two life sentences for the deaths of two FBI agents during a 1975 standoff near Oglala, S.D., on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation.

FBI agents Ronald Williams and Jack Coler were shot in the head at point-blank range.

Peltier has claimed the FBI framed him, which the agency denies.

His supporters have said he was treated unfairly because of his political activism.

Peltier has filed numerous appeals since he was convicted by a jury in Fargo in 1977.

Peltier has been shifted among several federal prisons in recent years, including Leavenworth, Kan., Terre Haute, Ind., and Lewisburg, Pa., where he currently is held.

His relatives say he has a number of health problems including diabetes, arthritis and the loss of vision in one eye after suffering a minor stroke.

The (Fargo) Forum

Russell Means speaks at a rally for Leonard Peltier as Peltier's sister Betty Ann Peltier-Solano, left, listens outside the federal courthouse Friday in Fargo, N.D.

Russell Means has been drawing attention to the Ft. Laramie Treaties of 1851 and 1868 by following the agreements made between the United States Government and Peoples of the Lakotah Nation. Means has gone fishing in the Black Hills without a fishing license and deliberately publicized it so that he would be ticketed and/or arrested by the South Dakota Department of Game, Fish and Parks Law Enforcement Rangers. Means wants to challenge his arrest in court using as his defense the Ft. Laramie Treaty. Means is hoping to set a legal precedent. Russell Means is also having a Treaty meeting at the Prairie Wind Casino in Pine Ridge on December 8, 9, and 10 of 2008. Other significant speakers will be Chief Oliver Red Cloud, Benson Black Feather and members from other reservations.

Russell Means has been holding AIM Meetings at the Wounded Knee CAP Office with the assistance of [REDACTED] who [REDACTED] Wounded Knee CAP Office. A lot of residents in Pine Ridge were glad that Russell Means was not elected President of the Oglala Sioux Tribe because of Russell Means' involvement with AIM. Most people who voted against Russell Means do not want AIM policies dictating what the Tribal Council does. Other reasons people voted against Russell Means were because of statements he made about the general assistance monies received by citizens of Pine Ridge. Currently citizens of Pine Ridge receive two checks a month based on needs of the family and number of people in the family. However, Means wants to issue every enrolled member something similar to a credit card with a limit set for each individual according to what they qualify for under general assistance. Control, not more money, needed for the tribes

AUTHOR

This Forum piece is written by Russell Means, chief facilitator, provisional government Republic of Lakotah.

In response to the opinion of Sen. John Thune, R-S.D., dated Oct. 12: I applaud his recognition of what the governments call Native American Day and what he believes to truly honor the legacy of the Dakota, Dakota, and Nakota traditions.

The senator's opinion to solving the crisis the Dakota, et.al. face on our respective reservations and communities is to introduce more force on my people. It seems that is the only way demopublicans can respond to social ills in any community. I disagree that we need a police state to help solve our problems on Pine Ridge. What is needed is what the United States Constitution, Article 6 states; Treaties are the law of the land. In one of those agreements we are promised the Arts of Civilization, in return for the richest parts of our land and rivers.

The interpretation of the Arts of Civilization include the following: Our own energy companies, banks, control over our own lands including water and minerals, the right to a meaningful education that is certified by our culture not by the state or any government, true healthy comprehensive health care.

All of the above would enable us to be self sufficient and contributing to the wealth by a vastly greater degree than we do now. It would certainly lessen the need for police power. Sen.

Thune and all government officials, including police take an oath to uphold the Constitution of the United States of America. There are not any 'buts' in those oaths.

Without the duly constitutional rights enumerated above, we will always need an increase in police power. What is a population with over 80 percent unemployed going to do without our rights to participate in the economics of the world. I understand the reservation police are overworked and understaffed, however, that is actually the last of our problems that needs to be addressed by Sen. Thune or anyone else.

Everyone in South Dakota and the world should understand there are nine Sioux Indian Reservations and their peoples from which constitutes over 25 percent of the tax base of the state of South Dakota. Also, the wealth of those reservation lands and the water are traded on Wall Street by the attorney general of South Dakota. Look it up on Dunn and Bradstreet, and other financial indexes that monitor Wall Street.

Therefore, it is understandable why South Dakota and the federal government needs to keep us impoverished and dependent in order for the surrounding white communities to exist.

That includes Nebraska towns and counties along the South Dakota border.
